

The difference between knowing and not knowing

As the title says...

Knowing and not knowing, there is a difference between heaven and earth in life and all things
Divide!

In a specific example...

<Unknown case PART1>

For those of you who are unemployed and can't find a new job, as if your life is over
Do you know the following public assistance?

- ① Support benefits for unemployed people
- ② Hello Work Unemployment Allowance
- ③ Hello Work Training Benefits
- ④ Private benefits payment type training

A wide variety of other public and private measures are now in place!

<Unknown case PART2>

Unable to work due to the above reasons or old age, Involuntarily Poverty (For people who are not living in a house, etc., such as the homeless

- ① Public assistance
- Regarding the above application...

- A. I don't know how to apply
- B. Giving up from the beginning, such as the application not being approved

Because there is no Internet environment such as a smartphone ... for the reason that I can not research,
The details of A and B above are unknown, etc.
Save some money and go to an internet cafe!

You can browse as much as you like on the internet!
In addition, residence registration is required to qualify for public assistance, so
Even if you do not live virtually, at the jurisdiction office of the address name that comes to mind
If you register your address, your application will pass!

that's all...

- ① to give up
- ② One-sided thinking (bias)
- ③ swallow rumors

Eliminate the above three items from self-thinking,

- ① To know
- ② to investigate and listen in order to know

If you always keep the above two items in mind, naturally
Vector will guide you in the right direction!

lastly...

Knowing life → Happiness
Unknown life → Unhappiness
